INTRODUCTION

No' 44 Stirling Crescent is located in a popular residential area of Kirkcudbright within close proximity to all town centre amenities.

This semi-detached property benefits from generous garden grounds to the rear and side and although requires a degree of cosmetic upgrading, has huge potential to create a family home or for the first-time buyer or those wishing to buy to let.

All essential services are found in the busy harbour town of Kirkcudbright, which is situated on the banks of the River Dee. Kirkcudbright is extremely popular with tourists as well as craft shops and niche retailers the town is well served with a full range of retail and professional services. Both primary and secondary schooling are available within the town, with both being highly regarded.

This area of Southwest Scotland enjoys one of the most varied and picturesque landscapes within Scotland, ranging from the moorland of the Southern Upland Hills to the bays and sandy beaches of the distinctive coastline. This is a rural county where agriculture and tourism thrive to form the backbone of the local economy. The area has been relatively unscathed by modern industry.

The region is well-known for the quality and variety of both field sports and leisure activities with the outdoor and sporting enthusiast extremely well-catered for as there exist the ability to take both shooting and fishing locally. Given the diverse landscape along with the proximity to the coast and local lochs, the area offers unique walks, sailing, cycling and for the golfer there is an abundance of good local courses with the region boasting no fewer than twenty-nine 18-hole courses, the closest being at Kirkcudbright. The Solway Firth is a popular yachting destination and Scotland's only 'Blue Flag' marina is located adjacent to Kirkcudbright Harbour.
